

B points into or out of the board, depending on the orientation of the magnet.